

RECOMMENDED READING

Over the last two decades, I've had the privilege of reading over 700 books from diverse fields, including philosophy, psychology, leadership, management, self-help, spirituality, relationships, and wealth creation. Whilst I have learnt from most of what I've read, I've singled out below my Top 50 books that have been some of the most influential in my life. For ease of reference, I've chunked my Top 50 into three categories – Personal Development, Professional Development and Spiritual Development. Having said this, I recognize the imperfection in my categorization, since several of the books could comfortably span all three categories.
